Easterseals Wisconsin Relocates to Middleton

(WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis.) – Easterseals Wisconsin, which specializes in providing transformative services for people with disabilities and their families, has officially relocated its offices to Middleton. The move, effective immediately, marks a significant milestone as the organization transitions from its former location on Excelsior Drive in Madison to its new space at 1468 N. High Point Rd., Ste. 202. The new space will provide the staff with a more open concept with multiple-use spaces.

“We're excited for the move,” Easterseals Wisconsin CEO and President Paul Leverenz said. “Business operations have changed post-COVID. By examining current operational practices, we were able to find a space that meets current needs and positions us well for the next 5 to 10 years. At the same time, we'll realize cost savings, allowing us to allocate those savings to support our mission to increase independence, maximize opportunities, minimize barriers, and enhance the quality of life for people with disabilities.”
